New Federal Tax Measure To Be Aired

General Discussion, Symposium Planned On Feature Of Law

The recently enacted federal tax law and the new state tax provisions affecting the income tax liability of a considerable number of taxpayers will be the topic in a symposium discussion on the "community property" feature of these laws, to be held here May 7.

A panel discussion by four experts will be followed by a general discussion session which will include interested members of the audience, according to Prof. William L. Matthews Jr., of the College of Law faculty and director of the conference.

Dr. Paul G. Kauper, professor of taxation and constitutional law, University of Michigan; School of Law, Kentucky Attorney General A. E. Funk; Dean A. E. Evans, of the College of Law; and James W. Martin, professor of economics at the University, will be the speakers, Matthews said.

The conference is sponsored by the Henry Clay chapter of Phi Alpha Delta, honorary legal fraternity at the University.

VETERANS' CHECKS MAY BE LATE

Veterans' subsistence checks for April may be late, the Veterans Administration said.

Heavy bookkeeping work due to the increase in subsistence may cause a delay, VA officials said.

Myers Elected Class Prexy

Carlisle Myers, physical education major, was elected president of the class of 1948 at a special convocation of graduating seniors in the College of Education. Georgia Portmann was elected secretary.

Myers is a member of the Student Government Association, Lamp and Cross, national honorary leadership organization for senior men, Delta Tau Delta social fraternity, and is golf coach at University High School.

Miss Portmann is also a major in physical education, a member of Tau Sigma, modern dance group, Chi Delta Phi, honorary literary society for women, Women's Athletic Association, and has been active in the Gungnol Theater.

O'Lee And Nichols Nominated For Head Of Campus Group

Ben O'Lee, Lexington junior, and Fred Nichols, Madisonville senior, have been nominated for president of the College Chamber of Commerce.

The election of officers, an annual affair, will be held May 3. Results of the election and installation of the new officers will be a feature of a Chamber banquet that night in the Lafayette Hotel.

Nominees for other officers include: for vice-president, Eugene Ward and Ezra Thompson for secretary, Judy Horne and Eraldine Sheets; and for treasurer, Thomas Patterson and Joseph Schaeff.

Other business concluded at the meeting included the election of Ralph Hofelman to the group's board of directors.

WBKY Plans Series On Social Problems

"Brothers All," "Our Changing World," and "Visiting Lexington's Industries" will be the topics of three documentary radio series on social and economic problems broadcast by the University radio studios during April and May, Elmer Sulzer, director of radio, announced.

"Brothers All," an eight program series, will be written by Miss Mary Bartley, senior in radio arts, and will feature tolerance. Time of the broadcasts is Mondays, from 10:45 to 11 p.m.

Featuring University scientists in discussions of new developments, "our Changing World" will be produced by Glenn Graff. Radio Station WKLX in Lexington will carry the series on Mondays at 8:45 p.m.

"Visiting Lexington's Industries," written and produced by Ruby Graham, will be broadcast from 8:30 to 9:00 p.m. on Thursdays.

YM-YW Plan Retreat At Daniel Boone

Members of the YW-YM will attend a planning retreat Saturday and Sunday at Camp Daniel Boone. The group will meet at 1:30 Saturday at the Student Union and go from there to the Camp.

Those in charge of arrangements for the week-end retreat are Mary Sue McWhirter, Sara Mae Greene, Evelyn Ewing, Virginia Henry, Jean Eubank, Eloise Eubank, Betty Ree Rhoads, Ralph McCracken, Lee Miles, John Cashman and Harold Friedley.

OMICRON DELTA KAPPA APPLICATIONS DUE TODAY

The deadline for applications for membership in Omicron Delta Kappa, national men's leadership honorary, is 5 p.m. today. It was announced by George Barker, president. Any student who feels that he is qualified is cordially invited to apply.

The qualifications necessary are a 2. standing or better, Junior or Senior classification, and 8 or more quality points which are given for outstanding leadership in two or more of five recognized fields, namely: Scholarship, Social Service, Athletics, Publications and Forensics. Information and application forms may be obtained in the Dean of Men's office.

The purpose of ODK is not only recognition of student and faculty leadership, but also service to the University and the community through promotion and execution of worthwhile projects and campus programs.

Spring Term Registration Hits New High

The University's Spring quarter enrollment of 7039 includes 4227 veterans who comprise approximately 62 percent of the enrollment, the Registrar's Office announced this week.

Fayette County leads the counties with 1527 enrolled compared with 1499 for the Spring quarter last year. All of Kentucky's counties are included in the enrollment which includes students from 41 other states and the District of Columbia, and 21 foreign countries and United States possessions.

Ohio with 144 leads the out-of-state enrollment followed by New York with 104.

Students from foreign lands include Africa 1, Australia 1, Brazil 1, China 4, Colombia 1, Costa Rica 1, Cuba 2, Egypt 1, England 1, Finland 1, Germany 1, Greece 1, Guam 1, India 6, Japan 1, Mexico 1, Palestine 1, Peru 1, Puerto Rico 4, The Netherlands 2, Turkey 2.

Kluckhohn Conducts Sociology Workshop Here Last Week

Dr. Clyde M. Kluckhohn of Harvard University, an eminent anthropologist and authority on the Navajo Indian, conducted a workshop here Monday through Wednesday in connection with the Societies Around the World courses being offered by the Department of Sociology and Anthropology.

Expressing himself as opposed to the "biological park" idea of maintaining primitive cultures as an exhibit, he said that a proper rate of absorption of such peoples into our national life was the important factor.

He stated that the Navajos should be taught the English language and the technological skills necessary to their maintaining a good standard of living, but at the same time should retain the good in their original culture.

Dr. Kluckhohn, who has been a student of the Navajo for twenty-five years and speaks the language fluently, said that the Department of the Interior had adopted a highly sensible policy in the ten-year plan for Navajo rehabilitation which is now before Congress. He expressed the hope that the project would receive full approval and be financed sufficiently to be properly carried out.

Neuro-Psychiatrist To Address Group

Dr. Halbert Leet, local neuro-psychiatrist and instructor in Psychology in the Graduate School, spoke on "Prejudice and Discrimination" last Sunday evening. He addressed members of the University for Life group at their meeting in the Fellowship hall of the Central Christian church.

The topic, one especially chosen by students, was discussed from the psychological point of view and included causes and effects of prejudice and discrimination. Questions and discussion followed Dr. Leet's talk.

Annual Spring Inspection Set For Campus Military Units

The annual spring inspection of the Military Science department, the ROTC Cadet Corp, and the military band will be conducted May 3, by a five-officer board, representing the Department of the Army, Col. G. T. MacKenzie, ROTC commandant announced.

The inspection will consist of both practical and theoretical tests concentrated into a one-day period. The classroom work of the Air Corps, Infantry and Signal Corps units of the ROTC will be inspected in a parade review of the 1050-man cadet corp and military band is planned for the afternoon.

Inspecting officers will include Col.

'48 May Queen Finalists Chosen In Student Election

Nine girls were chosen Tuesday in an all-day student election as final contenders for the 1948 May Day Queen title. One will be queen, another attendant, and seven members of her court.

Four girls from Lexington were elected in the final nine. They were Joan Rehm, Lyde Gooding, Priscilla McVey, and Betty Elliott. Of the other five candidates three are from out-of-state—Sue Allen, Burlington, Iowa; Sally Branch, Huntington, W. Va.; and Fawn Gray, Freeport, Ill. The other two candidates were Kentuckians Barbara Bidwell and Nelle Payne from Louisville and Glasgow, respectively.

A three-member faculty committee will select the girls to reign on May Day, May 8, as queen and her first attendant while the other seven will make up the queen's court.

Taylor Named For Award

Norman L. Taylor, Augusta junior student in the College of Agriculture and Home Economics was named the recipient of the first annual $200 scholarship offered by Lances, junior men's leadership society on the campus.

Roy Wallace, Lances president, said that applications were considered on the basis of scholarship, need and character before the award was made. Qualifications included the requirement that the candidate be a junior in classification, not a member of Lances, have a two-point standing as scholastic attainment, personal qualities and neediness.

The fraternity hopes to make the scholarship an annual award. Funds are raised through the Lances Fall carnival and dance. The scholarship will be announced at Honor's Day May 12.

Philosophers Having Dinner

Dr. William C. Bower, professor emeritus of the University of Chicago, and professor of sociology at the University, will be guest speaker at a dinner meeting of the Philosophy Club at 5:30 p.m., Monday in room 205, SUB. Dr. Bower's topic will be, "A Functional Concept of Religion."

Dinner tickets are $1.00 a plate. Those wishing to attend are requested to leave their names with the secretary, Philosophy department of office, Frazee hall, before Saturday noon.

William K. Hubbell, Lexington, Arts and Sciences junior is the new president of the Philosophy Club. Demetrius Cordas, Arts and Sciences sophomore, Volos, Greece, has been elected vice president and Naomi Ruby, Plainfield, N. J., Arts and Sciences sophomore, secretary.

Charles S. Johnson, Infantry, dean of the College of Military Science at the University of Maryland; Lt. Col. John H. Lewis Jr., Field Artillery, headquarters Third Armored division, Fort Knox; Maj. George C. Morton, Infantry, C-3 section headquarters Second Army, Fort Meade, Md.; Lt. Col. Murray A. Little, Signal Corps, Chief of operations and training division, signal section, headquarters, Second Army; and an as-yet-unnamed Air Force Lieutenant Colonel.

The first three officers will form the team inspecting the Infantry unit and the others will inspect the Signal Corps and Air Corps units.

500 Graduate Librarians Needed - Daily

Dr. Robert H. Dely, head of the Department of Library Science, stated that he could place 500 library science graduates in attractive positions between now and the end of the quarter.

"Opportunities in the library profession are greater now than ever before," he said, adding, "and it is expected that the demand will hold up for a number of years because each year financial aid from various states to libraries is steadily increasing."

The number of jobs far exceeds the number of graduating students. There are 18,000 actual or potential unfilled positions in library work, while the combined output of all accredited library schools is only 1500 graduates per year, according to Dr. Dely.

"All students doing satisfactory work have been placed long before the completion of their training," Dr. Dely said. They have been placed as far away as Los Angeles and as close as Cincinnati. One former student is the librarian of the European Theatre Libraries with headquarters in Germany.

Beginning salaries for library school graduates range from $2100 for nine or ten month terms for school libraries to $2700 annually for positions in colleges, universities, and public libraries. Government positions have also increased the beginning salary to $2600 per year.

Dr. Dely stated that advancement in rank and salary is assured for capable librarians. "Head librarians in large libraries draw from $6000 to $10,000 or more," he said. The (Continued on Page Three)

SGA Debates Smoking Law, Honor System

Crockett Offers No Solution For Problems

By Ruby Graham
Enforcement of the no-smoking rule and the establishment of an honor system are the two biggest problems for Student Government Association on this campus according to Johnny Crockett, newly elected president of SGA.

The no-smoking rule is now being considered by the Assembly. The honor system has been previously discussed. Crockett offered no solution to either problem, because of the lack of interest in the activities of SGA.

"The chief weakness of SGA lies in the lack of student interest both on campus and in the Assembly," Crockett stated. "Before SGA can meet problems such as the smoking question and the honor system, we must have student cooperation and interest behind the whole thing."

In discussing the Assembly, the president believes that the work is being done by a very small percentage of the thirty-one elected members. "Two or three men do all the work while the majority of the members merely occupy chairs in the Monday night meetings."

Attendance this year at meetings has been irregular. A bill passed the Assembly Monday night to clamp down on absences. Under the new bill, members may not be excused from regular meetings to attend other meetings on campus; neither may members leave the Assembly early for the same purpose. Crockett believes this bill will be a great help to SGA.

"Members have had one great habit: coming to SGA, answering roll call, and an abiding interest in fifteen minutes. This bill will certainly cure that in a hurry," he added.

To strengthen interest of Assembly members in the activities of the body, Crockett has assigned each member to a specific committee. (Continued on Page Four)

Joint Recital Here Sunday

A music recital by Miss Jane Thomas, Lexington, mezzo-soprano, and Miss Frieda Cornelius, Bettyville, pianist, will be presented at a joint graduation recital at 4 p.m. Sunday in Memorial Hall.

Miss Thomas will be accompanied by Wyatt Insko, Lexington music director, in her 10 classical and modern selections. She is a member of the University Mixed Chorus, Phi Beta music and speech fraternity for women, and the Wesley Foundation.

A transfer student from Eastern Kentucky State College and the Cincinnati Conservatory of Music, Miss Cornelius is a member of the University Women's Glee Club, University Chorists, Phi Beta, University YWCA and Alpha Xi Delta social sorority.

The program is the third in the Spring series of seven recitals by graduating students of the music department. The next program will be May 9.

Donovan Attending Committee Meeting

President H. L. Donovan is in Washington this week attending a meeting of the U. S. Department of Agriculture and Land Grant Colleges Policy Committee of which he is a member. The committee is meeting to study problems of agricultural extension work in land grant colleges.

Next Wednesday he will be in Chicago for a two day meeting of the Association of State Universities.

Two Get Awards For History Study

The History Department announced Thursday that two graduate students have accepted fellowships to continue work toward their doctor's degrees.

Orville W. Taylor, Little Rock, Ark., received a $1000 grant and will study at Duke University. Will Frank Stealy, Hazel, will go to the University of Rochester on an $850 fellowship.

All Campus Party Organizes For Spring Term Activities

The All-Campus Party Tuesday night organized and prepared its Spring quarter program. A committee was appointed to draft a constitution for the party. The committee consists of Tom Perkins, chairman, Joe Rankin, Ellis Foster, B. K. Robertson and Jim Eddleman.

Groups were also formed to aid All-Campus SGA members in doing research on legislation to be introduced. The party expects to sponsor several pieces of constructive legislation this quarter. ACP chairman Eugene Amburgey said.

Another meeting of the party, with all students invited, will be held in about two weeks, according

Wald To Play For Prom

Jerry Wald's orchestra will play for an SGA-sponsored Senior Prom Saturday, May 15, from 8 to 12 p.m. Every senior graduating in June or August is allowed one free ticket to the semi-formal dance. The free ticket must be obtained before 5 p.m. Wednesday, May 12, at the SUB ticket booth.

Tickets for other students are one dollar each and will be on sale in the SUB the week preceding the dance.

An SGA committee headed by Rusty Russell made arrangements for Wald's band, which was recently reorganized and changed in style. Unusual among modern dance bands, the Wald combination includes three violins, a viola, a cello, a trumpet, three rhythm instruments, and a boy singer. Wald is still featured on the clarinet as he was in the old outfit.

Popular Jerry Wald recordings were "Clarinet Highlins," "Sad About Him, Mad About Him Blues," "Can't You Read Between the Lines," "Rhumba Fantasy," "Trains In The Night," "Someone To Watch Over Me," "The More I See You," and others.

The combination recently played at Ciro's, Hollywood night club.

Lyde Gooding Is Candidate

Candidate for Queen of the 1948 Kentucky Mountain Laurel Festival in Pineville May 27-29 is Miss Lyde Gooding, graduating senior in the College of Education from Lexington, according to Mrs. Sarah B. Holmes, dean of women.

Other colleges and universities throughout the state will nominate candidates to compete with the UK brunette selection. Miss Gooding is a member of Kappa Kappa Gamma social sorority, former secretary of Panhellenic council, 1945 Military Ball queen, former attendant to the Kentucky Beauty Queen, and currently is a candidate for the title of Queen of the May Day at the University.

The University's "The Best Band In Dixie" will present a concert in the courthouse square at Pineville, lead a parade of floats and bands, and furnish music for the coronation of the festival queen by Governor Earle G. Clements on May 28.

Engineering Students Get Job Interviews

The Aluminum Company of America and Westinghouse Electric Company representatives recently interviewed electrical engineering students.

C. W. Hornsberger, Louisville, and M. S. Angier, Pittsburgh, representatives of Westinghouse, interviewed engineering seniors last week. Mr. J. E. Howley, past president of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, and representative of the Aluminum Company of America, has been on the campus to interview three senior electrical engineers for positions with that company.

Gaither Is Head Of Education Frat

Lee B. Gaither has been elected president of Phi Delta Kappa, men's honorary education fraternity.

Other officers elected were Thomas L. Hankins, vice president, Dr. Frank G. Dickey, secretary-treasurer, and Dr. Ellis P. Hartford, faculty advisor.

The new officers will be formally introduced at the fraternity's annual breakfast at the YMCA dining room in Louisville, this morning. Dr. Willard Givens, Executive Secretary of the National Education Association, will be the principal speaker.

Holding Last Meeting

Phi Delta Kappa, men's honorary education fraternity, will hold its final meeting of this school year at 4 p.m., Friday, May 7, in Room 222, Education Building.

Overheard: "I've been to the Derby six times, but I have yet to see the big race. Guess I'll try again this year."

We hear that John Thawley and his newly acquired SAE pin have parted company. Is it true?

We forgot to mention last week that Bill Overholtz and Helen Olmstead announced their engagement at the Delt Orchid Formal.

Congratulations to Joan Rehm, the new Sweetheart of Sigma Chi. John Allen was pulling for her all the way.

And speaking of John Allen, he and Bill Honaker added a light touch to the Best Dressed Contest.

Congratulations are also in order for Kentucky's best dressed Libby Reynolds and Charlie Pritchett.

It must have been quite a blow for the boy who wanted to move in when he saw a Room for Rent sign hanging from a window at Lydia Brown house. The housemother broke it to him gently.

Pinched: Jean Harrell and Douglas Brown; Joan Powell and Ray Turner; Ginny Stephens and Craig Riddle.

Is Vaughn Monroe really coming to Joyland soon?

What's this about serenades having to be on the social calendar?

One boy who would like to be a constant twosome with Clara Hicks is Bob Utterback. She doesn't seem to think so.

Turk Daugherty and Betty Malone have broken up. They just didn't see eye to eye.

with Bob Kretschmer. Come on, Bob, give the girl a break!

Gloria Barnett's middle name really is LOVE! Her address is in the student directory.

Two people who are seeing a lot of each other lately are Gene Hardin and Bill Watterson.

One boy who doesn't have to stand in line for a date with Doris Colman is Lynn Shouse.

The new SAE favorite is Sandy Morgan.

The Lambda Chi's have added a new angle, by planning a river party on Sunday, for the sake of some of the boys who play in various orchestras on Saturday night, and have never been able to attend the previous ones.

The girls have been at it for years, but the latest vogue among men has been taking sun baths on the roofs of dorms, fraternity houses, and even in front yards. It's a shame we don't all live in Florida.

Spring Has Sprung

By Stanley J. Schill

Spring is sprung, the grass is riz, wonder where all that there show is.

Is the bluegrass really ready to blossom forth, or is this just another false alarm?

Robins are already in the vicinity, but, say the old timers, don't get your hopes up. This, they say, happens every year. Comes the end of April and we'll all be pulling the "long handles" out of those mothballs into which we so carefully packed them this week.

Signs Of Spring
The sun is shining, and the bluegrass is blueing. Overcoats have been discarded in favor of sweaters, and the campus is already dotted with those scenes that the college magazines love to play up.

Even the steely expression on the statue of Dr. Patterson seems to almost break out in smiles as he drools over the coeds sitting around at his feet.

Wolves Are Howling
The girls have emerged from their fur cocoons, and the men once again have that queer look in their eyes that always seems to appear around this time of the year. The poets call it a "young man's fancy." We call it a "wooden gleam," brought about by the change in the female form from a bundle of fur to, well, er, uh, um . . . something nice.

Sports
Time To Loaf
All this sounds very optimistic, but these are only the thoughts running through most peoples' minds as they wander over the campus in the bright sunshine. The spring lethargy is upon us. It's too nice a day to rush to classes, so say we all, let's take our time and

Book Hogs

A professor mentioned to one of his classes the other day that a student had "borrowed" a much-sought-after book from the library and kept it for the entire quarter.

While at the main desk of the library this week I saw a girl start to return such a book but then, upon finding that someone else had it on reserve and that she could not take it back on herself, snatch it back out of the librarian's hands saying that she'd keep it and pay the fine when she was ready to turn it in.

When there are only a few copies of a book and 50 or so students are expected to share them, it's the duty of each individual to see that the copy is returned to the University library when it is due.

It isn't fair to a large class for an instructor to assign a book of so few copies that everyone cannot take advantage of the assignment. Conversely, fair play on the part of each individual in the class can make a few copies adequate for a large number of students.

There is no way in which the members of the library staff can force a student to return a book when it is due. On the other hand, two cents a day is entirely too light a line to impose upon delinquent students who keep out a much desired book for some times over a month.

A special, heavy fine should be levied against students who purposely and selfishly keep a book which their fellow class members are waiting for and have on reserve. This fine could be levied in fairness if the library would send out a notice to the student that the book was due and the special fine would be levied if it were not brought in on time.

Letters To The Editor

Editor, the Kernel:

As one of the faculty who has sometimes missed outstanding events presented on the campus and in the community, I have been moved to wonder that there is no organized plan followed to schedule and print a weekly or daily calendar which will show in advance University sponsored or authorized educational and entertainment programs—all printed in one column or upon one placard and displayed upon University bulletin boards.

It is the practice in many schools to supply the bulletin boards with such a weekly placard, showing what events are open to the public each day, whether admission is charged, and the like. Scheduled are not only lectures, musical entertainment, dramatic offerings, exhibits, and contests, but also athletic events and at least the major social convocations.

It might well be that programs of this sort could include those of outstanding importance and merit which will be offered in the city at large.

The present haphazard publicity system requires that one search at what is almost random among the printed pages of the Kernel and of the local daily newspapers in order to ferret out the information desired. Furthermore, there is no systematic and concentrated summarizing of coming events of this sort, printed all in one place—and available for reference at will.

Couldn't the Kernel publish a weekly box or column to aid in curbing the defects written about, or sponsor a move to have weekly placards printed and placed upon campus bulletin boards?

Men See 'Plushy' Quarters

By Jerald Finch

Exclamations of wonder and awe greeted representatives from the men's Rose Street barracks when they descended upon the Jewell Annex recently and set up lounging headquarters in the "plushy" reception room following an invitation extended by one of the Jewell residents.

Upon invitation of Jean Kelly in the "Editor's Letters" column of a past Kernel, the Vets established the Annex as their base of operations for the day, leaving the premises only for classes, chow, and an intramural basketball game. From 10:00 a.m. until 10:30 p.m., the invaders exulted in their luxurious surroundings—kings for a day.

Daunted at the sight of carpeted floors, "Roman Jim" Montgomery asked if he should remove his shoes, but he soon became acclimated to the new terrain. Ed Carter regaled himself by bouncing on the overstuffed sofas and chairs. Clarence Reynolds, who is taking an engineering thermo class, asked to see the publicized oil burning stoves, and here the first myth of the Annex was exploded. The same type of coal, smoke-erupting volcanoes serve as heaters as grace the men's barracks.

The Morgan brothers, Joe and Casey, reported seeing the seven wonders of barracks' life: window draperies, floor lamps, two large chests of drawers in the rooms, mirrors, numerous desks and tables, and cement sidewalks. All paused in reverence, and even Joe Ungerleider halted his tracing of a drop of blood from the heart to the ear down to the big toe for Dot Taylor, when a specimen of Alex Bell's invention was produced—a telephone!

Ruth Grider and Dorothy Struve objected to only one visitor—"Biotto," the canine mascot of dubious ancestry from Barracks M. Rose Street.

When the boys returned to their own shanty late that night, they switched on their lone naked light bulb, seated themselves upon inverted coal scuttles, and unanimously passed a resolution renaming the girls but "Rose Street Barracks Annex."

"My future's in the telephone business"

"I've been in the telephone business a little more than two years.

"And what busy years they've been!"

"The Bell System has added more than 6,000,000 new telephones, erected some 1200 buildings, buried thousands of miles of cable and made great strides in extending and improving telephone service in rural areas.

"Telephone service has been extended to automobiles, trucks and trains, and a new system for transmitting telephone conversations and television programs by microwaves put in operation.

"At Bell Telephone Laboratories they're working on new electronic devices which will bring still wider horizons of electrical communications within view.

"I've had a part in this post-war progress."

There's a future in telephony.

(Continued from Page One) government has added to the demand for trained librarians. There are government library positions now open in Japan which offer 25 per cent additional pay for overseas work.

"The main reason so few students become librarians," Dr. Dolly explained, "is that it has not been presented to them early enough in their college careers and also there is a misnomer of the duties."

The work has been subdivided into smaller fields of operation and as a result specialization has entered the profession. Majors in subject fields such as chemistry, physics, pre-medicine, etc., are especially needed in library work. Reference librarians, reader's advisors, subject specialists, children's and young people's librarians, cataloguers, classifiers, and administrators are only a few of the fields in which there is a great demand, according to Dr. Dolly.

"Men as well as women are needed in library work and there is equal opportunity for both," Dr. Dolly asserted.

The library training agency at the University is the only one in Kentucky that has been accredited by the American Library Association.

Writers Hear Quinn

Joe Quinn who received his degree in journalism here in 1937 and is now a sports writer for the Cincinnati Post, addressed a journalism class recently.

Quinn's talk was a discussion of the American Newspaper Guild of which he is a member.

And then there was the absent minded professor who made the students write the questions while he answered.

Been swimming yet? Whether you have or haven't, it's time to purchase a new bathing suit. Get one now and be ready for that next swimming party. TOTS & TEENS have: and, are receiving almost every day a wonderful selection of swim suits. They have: Cole of California, Catalina of California, and Sea Nymph of New York. And notice this, Tots & Teens will allow you $1.00 against the purchase price of any suit you select! The only hitch is that you clip this notice and give it to the sales lady in the swim suit department. Take advantage of this saving and clip this notice today!

Guess what MITCHELL BAKER SMITH'S have just received? Yes, they are the popular Jantzen tee-shirts. Choose them with alternate bands of navy and yellow, or red and white. They are made of the finest ply-combed yarn and sell for $2.95. Hurry and add several of these much-in-demand Jantzen shirts to your sports wardrobe.

Are you looking for something you can wear for sun bathing and on the campus too? Well, MARTINS has the answer. It's a four piece sports outfit of eye-catching plaid cotton. The full circular skirt is trimmed with bands of rickrack, giving a tiered effect. The ruffled blouse can be worn off or on the shoulder. For sun bathing, wear the matching tailored shorts and gathered halter. The skirt is priced at $10.95, the blouse $5.95, the shorts $4.00, and the halter $2.95.

"Point your little toe," and exhibit a ballerina shoe of gold kid by Curtail Call. This new type ballerina for only $5.95 at BROWNS BOOTERIE can be worn for street or evening wear. Ankle strap and sandal styles will be in next week. You'll be seeing a lot of these. They are a must to go with your cool spring and summer clothes.

She's wearing lovely pearls by Kichelleu. I heard she got them at MEYERS too.

And you'll want a strand or two of these dainty pearls also. They're tiny, reasonably priced, and may be purchased in the single string for $2.00 or in the double string for $4.00. They're ideal for graduation gifts.

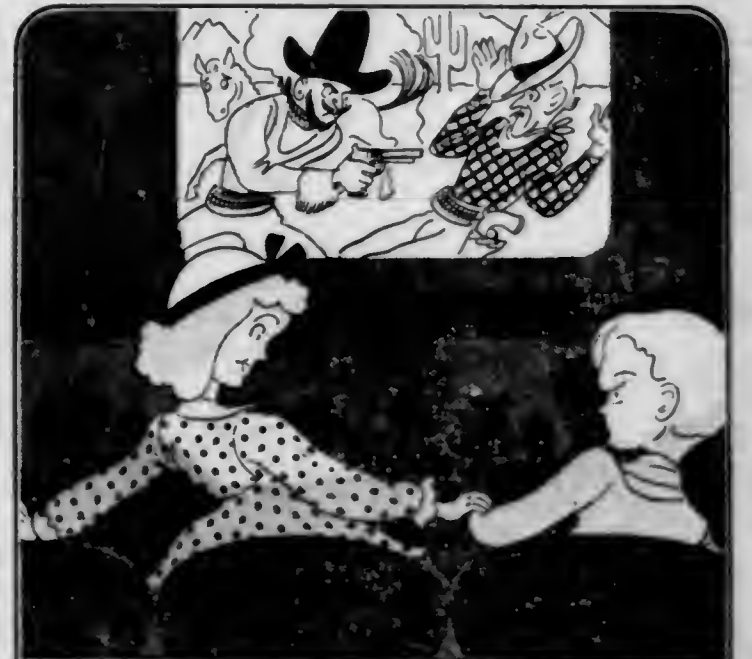

Betty Serlmer and Doris Coleman looked attractive in white formal at the IPC dance Saturday night. Betty's dress of cotton was fashioned with a full skirt and trimmed in white eyelets with a wide blue sash tied in the back in a big bow. Doris's cool looking dress of organdy had a very full skirt with ruffles, both on the skirt and the sleeves.

SGA Debates

tee. In order that the individual might be working with his particular interest, Crockett asked members to designate what committees they were interested in.

The president of SGA has the power to appoint any member of the student body to an SGA committee. Crockett plans to appoint heads of the various campus organizations to these committees, because he believes he will get people who are vitally interested in campus affairs and who will work to further SGA's services to the student body.

"I think it would be an ideal situation to draw the Assemblymen from the heads of the organizations on campus, rather than through the elections from the various colleges of the University," he said.

Crockett was chosen president in the recent spring election. A pre-law senior from Maysville, he was selected to "Who's Who in American Colleges and Universities" last fall. He is past president of Keys, sophomore men's leadership honorary; vice-president of Lanes, junior leadership society; and a member of Lamp and Cross, senior leadership society. A member of the YMCA and former co-chairman of the WSSP drive on campus, he was chosen most popular man on campus at the ODK-Kentuckian dance. He is a member of Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

UK Diamond Squad Splits With Georgia, Vanderbilt

By Kent Hollingsworth

The Kentucky baseball team won two and lost two during the past week. They split in the two-game series with Georgia and Vanderbilt. Against the Bulldogs here last weekend, the Cats took the first, on Friday, 12-10, and lost the second, 26-2, one of the worst defeats ever suffered by a UK team in recent years.

Monday at Nashville, the felines lost in a ten-inning game 10-9, but came back the following afternoon as Wah Jones pitched a brilliant two-hitter to take the final contest 7-0.

UK 7, Vandy 0

In the second inning, of the final Vandy game, Cliff Barker grabbed hold of one of B. J. Adcock's high and outside hard ones, to send a towering home run over the right field fence and put the Wildcats out in front to stay.

Both safeties allowed by Jones were scratch hits. J. P. Moore sent a roller over second base that Stough missed only by inches, and Adcock's pop fly hit the ground right between Heime, Stough and Barker.

Score by innings:

Kentucky	021	020	002-7 12 0
Vanderbilt	000	000	000-0 2 3

Batteries: Jones and Cummins; Adcock, Broyles (7) and Regen. Vandy 10, UK 9

Vandy's Darley "Daisy" May hit a stinging single off Ralph Beard's glove in the last half of the 10th inning to score the fleet-footed J. P. Moore from second and take a close game from the Wildcats by the score of 10 to 9.

Beard, plagued by hay fever, drove in three runs for the Wildcats with a triple and two singles, and stole home in the first inning. Jay Cummins broke into a lineup with four hits in five appearances at the plate. Big Wah Hirsch, Bobby Lawrence, and B. J. Adcock hit triples, and Adcock and Stephens connected for doubles for the only extra base blows of the game. Ben Zarnka was the losing pitcher.

Barker's Homer Big Blow
Cliff Barker, with only three days of baseball practice, lifted a home run over the left-center field fence in the last half of the ninth inning to bring Wah Jones' fourth collegiate pitching triumph, without a defeat, to a climactic close.

John Stough, who collected four hits in four times at bat, crossed the plate just ahead of Barker to make the final score read Kentucky 12, Georgia 10.

Batteries: Clifton, Hilbovy, Still and Johnson; Jones and Clegg. Dogs Wallop Cats, 26-2

The Georgia Bulldogs, pounding back from the previous day's defeat, drubbed out a 26-2 victory over the Wildcats, by virtue of a fantastic 15-run scoring spree in the seventh inning.

Eli Maricich slammed a home run over the center field fence with the bases cluttered with three Georgians, to lead the attack; first-baseman "Chubby" Jenkins and catcher Roberts also hit for four bases in the seventh frame.

The next home games for UK baseball team will be Friday and Saturday, May 7 and 8, against Georgia Tech and these contests will be held at Stoll Field. The following week Tennessee comes here for a pair of diamond tilts.

The Wildcat links squad went South this week to participate in the Southern Intercollegiate tournament at Atlanta, Ga. A 36-hole round Wednesday decided the team championship and qualified the participants for match play being held through Saturday. Niblickers Johnny Owens, Marvin Lear, Bud Lewis, Ray Colton and Jack Asher made the trip.

The local linksmen were not very gracious hosts to Southeastern Conference guests last week. They overwhelmed Tennessee, 13½-4½, Friday, and followed with a 11-7 win from Georgia Tech on Saturday.

Lewis, Kentucky's undefeated No. 2 man, averaged 75½ strokes as he won from both Tennessee and Georgia Tech opponents. Owens won each of his individual matches and averaged 73.

Lear won against Tennessee but was defeated by Georgian Duck Swan, who fired a one-over-par 73. Colton was tied by his Georgia Tech opponent after winning his individual match in the Tennessee engagement.

Each team must submit a roster of 15 players to Director McCubbin for the tournament before their first game of the playoffs.

Schedule Of Tourney
Bracket 1: Tipplers vs. Scott St. Barracks; SN vs. SAE; KS vs. DX; winner of PKA and SX plays Kinlead Hall; winner of LXA vs. TK meet ATO. The PKA-SX and the LXA-TK tilts were slated to be played yesterday.

Bracket 2: (Today's games) AGR-ASP winner meets PKT; Hornets-Triangle winner plays SPE; PSK-DTD winner meets Hustlers; and PDT-ZBT winner plays Bradley Hall.

The losers of all games go into a losers bracket to try again. Then the finals will be played between this division survivor and the winner of the other bracket, until one of the finalists has been beaten twice.

Lynx Trackmen To Vie With UT Vols Saturday

By Winfield Leathers

Coach Don Cash Seaton and his Kentucky Wildcat track and field men (22 strong) leave at noon today via bus for Knoxville, Tenn., where they will meet the Volunteers in a dual meet tomorrow afternoon. This is the last outing for the Kentuckians until the Southeastern Conference meet at Birmingham, Ala., May 14 and 15.

The Kentucky Kittens, the freshmen harriers, have two more meets left on their schedule. The first is slated for May 6 or 7 when Louisville Male travels to Lexington for a dual affair and the second is set for May 19 when Louisville Manual comes to Stoll Field.

In the meet last year with the Tennessee Volunteers the Wildcats were nipped in the final event, the mile relay, for a Volunteer victory. The final score was 50½ to 57½.

Undefeated thus far this season, the Wildcats coped their third straight dual meet last Saturday by routing the Tennessee Poly Eagles of Cookeville, Tenn., 103-30, on Stoll Field. Leading the point-prolific Kentuckians was John Chumley, who scored 16 points by winning the 100-yard dash and javelin throw and placing second in the shot put and discus throw.

Captain George Kirchner collected 11½ points, and Dale Barnstable of each competing in a final round robin for the trophy. Games to date include: KAT 34-KKG 5; Boyd Hall 18-AGD 3; Barracks 9-AXD 3; ADPI 16-DZO; Boyd Hall 15; Chi O 6; AGD 13-Chi O 11; Jewell Hall over DZ (forfeit); Tri Delt 31, Sayre Hall 16.

I PROMISED... I promised several fellows that I would let them know when some Van Heusen shirts came in. Well, I'm taking this medium to announce their arrival. Again pastel shades are in the color chart lead. These shirts are in pale blue, green, and tan with a very neat spread collar and straight cuff. I seldom mention price in this column, but these sell for $3.95 and that, brother, is reasonable these days!

KEEP A COOL HEAD... Wear a new, smart Mallory straw hat! LARGE EVENING... Enjoyed attending Triangle fraternity's spring formal... a swell bunch. Saw lots of sharp-looking outfits. Thanks for the invitation.

MY OPINION... With all modesty, may I crow a wee bit? When I first started this article, I picked Charles Pritchett (Sigma Nu), as my first best dressed man of the week. Now Pritchett lives up to my prediction (and expectations) by winning the Best Dressed Student Contest. May I also go a little commercial and mention the fact that he wore a custom made suit and we here at our shop designed and made it for him? A top notch grade of grey flannel, single breasted, peaked lapels, two side vents, and hand-stitched edges throughout. He knows clothes and wears them well. Why? ... because he is neat. Congratulations "Stuff" and thanks!

So long for now,

SPORTS ROUNDUP

— Tom Diskin, Sports Editor —

In 148 days the Kentucky Wildcats will start the 1948 football season here on Stoll Field in a game with Xavier.

The University has made plans to increase at a cost of $650,000, the seating capacity of McLean Stadium (Stoll Field) from its present 19,626 to 30,000 for the coming season, and to 43,026 for the 1949 campaign.

Time is running out if this program is to be finished on schedule. Construction on the stadium should begin as soon as possible to help relieve the pressing need of additional seats at the football games here this fall.

Last season, some 24,000 persons were squeezed into the stadium by using temporary steel and wooden bleachers. The demand for tickets to the Georgia, Alabama and Tennessee games far exceeded the supply. The Mississippi, Vanderbilt, and Villanova contests here this year are almost certain to be sellouts. It is imperative that McLean Stadium be enlarged to at least 40,000 in the near future.

Vanderbilt To Expand

Throughout the country, colleges are spending millions of dollars for new athletic structures. First let's look at Vandy.

Over $1,000,000 has been raised in Nashville for a fieldhouse at Vanderbilt University. Present plans call for a seating capacity for the fieldhouse of some 10,000 to 14,000 persons and all of Vandy's home basketball games will be played there when it is completed.

Last winter, the Commodores were forced to hold their games in Nashville at the old Classification Hall, which seated only 1,219 spectators. This gym was located several miles from the campus and, as a result, the student attendance at the cage contests was very small.

Adjoining this fieldhouse will be a new football stadium, unless present plans are changed. This structure will seat approximately 50,000 persons and will replace Vanderbilt's old Dudley Field, which has a capacity of only 21,000. Dudley Field needs to be reconstructed at a cost of $100,000 (as it is not waterproof) and rebuilt with steel within five years, or be replaced with a new structure. The Commodore athletic officials are anxious to get a new, large stadium as Nashville, with over 200,000 population, is a red-hot football town and supports the Vandy grid team very enthusiastically.

Birmingham's Legion Field

In Birmingham, the city rents Legion Field for football at a nominal fee. The municipality takes 10% of the gross gate. This stadium was built in 1927 at a cost of $375,000. It has recently been enlarged to a capacity of 38,000, which set the city back some $750,000, or almost twice the original cost of the plant.

Legion Field, where the annual Dixie Bowl contest is held, was the scene of 30 high school games in 1947, while Auburn played one contest there, Alabama used it for three battles; also a Negro college held one of its games on this gridiron last season. The high schools were charged $250 per game, while the colleges paid according to the gate receipt.

Tennessee Spent $1,500,000. The University of Tennessee has made Shields-Watkins Stadium a horseshoe-shaped structure which will now hold 46,000 for the coming 1948 season. A total of $1,500,000 was spent for this new construction, which also included offices for the athletic association and a 166-room men's dormitory. The 46,000 capacity is an increase of some 19,567 seats.

Chattanooga Too. The University of Chattanooga is spending $400,000 on Chamberlain Field which will increase seating capacity there from 6,500 to 16,000.

At Gainesville, the University of Florida, whom Kentucky meets here on November 13 in the first grid battle between the two schools, will complete late this year a $1,800,000 auditorium and gymnasium. In addition the institution plans to spend over $100,000 on new tennis courts and swimming pool improvements.

Michigan State, at East Lansing, is in the final stages of enlarging its Macklin Field from 27,232 to over 51,000 in preparation for the football game with the University of Ray Durham's tennis team invades Knoxville tomorrow afternoon for a match with the Tennessee Volunteers in quest of their first victory of the season against Southeastern Conference competition.

The Cats dropped their second game in a row Saturday on the Downing courts to Georgia Tech, 9-0, and then fell by the same score to University of Cincinnati Wednesday.

Every one of Kentucky's five matches have been decided by shut-out scores, the Cats whitewashing TPI and Berea, and then losing to Tech, Cincinnati, and Vanderbilt.

114 wins, 24 defeats, and 7 ties. Included on Thomas Field is a new baseball diamond, which is said to be one of the best in the South.

In addition, it contains a quarter-mile cinder track, five varsity football fields, four intramural gridirons, 20 surfaced tennis courts, and "ample facilities" for softball. Alabama also plans a new fieldhouse in the near future.

Wildcat Baseball Team To Meet
Georgia Tech Today In Atlanta

The University baseball team, improving by leaps and bounds with each passing game, left for Atlanta, Ga., last night where they will meet the formidable Georgia Tech nine Friday and Saturday afternoon.

Against Tennessee, the Engineers of Atlanta swept both games of a two-game series by scores of 9-1 and 10-8. Against Vanderbilt, the Georgians won two more games, by the identical scores of 8-6 and 8-6 in early games this year.

Facing the pitching staff is Henry Kalb, who is also a powerful batsman. Dick McMillin or J. B. Thompson will probably start the other game against the Cats.

Kalb is a sophomore hurler. As a freshman before the war he won four and lost two for Tech. Against Tennessee this season, he set down the Vols with only three hits, winning 9-1. In high school Kalb was a baseball and basketball letterman. After graduating from North Fulton High (Ga.), he went to Tech, but was forced to give up the cage game because of an ankle injury.

While in service, Kalb played with Roy Weatherly's baseball team at Fort Benning. Later, while in Japan, the ex-paratrooper played in one of the fast service leagues, then studied with major league stars.

McCoy Hitting .346

Following him is Second Baseman Lew Hook, with a .320 mark. Henry Schoening, a Louisville boy, is next with .318. He is also the captain of the Tech nine and plays first base. Center Fielder Hank Lankford is currently hitting .286, while Catcher Red Childress has the same average as Lankford.

Stough and Beard Lead Cats. Shortstop John Stough and Second Baseman Ralph Beard are the top hitters for Kentucky so far this season. Stough, with a home run and two doubles in his collection, has clouted the horsehide for .458 this season, while Beard is close behind with a .440 mark, which includes a pair of triples and two doubles in his hits.

Kentucky takes into Atlanta a record of 2 wins and 4 losses. Both victories of UK have been won by Hurler Wah Wah Jones, one against Georgia and another last Tuesday over the Vandy nine.
